

Catherine Wilson, Editor

IADFE dinner 2011

The International Academy for Dental Facial Esthetics (IADFE) is an honorary service organization whose mission is to foster interdisciplinary relationships and cooperative education in the area of facial esthetics.

The IADFE includes dentists, doctors and individuals of various associated professions, all of whom share a goal of building bridges and relationships whereby esthetic patient needs can be better and more knowledgeably served.

The IADFE is truly an international group, as this year's meeting clearly reaffirmed with new Members from the UK, Bahrain and across the United States. This year's annual Fellowship Meeting took place on November 28th, in conjunction with the Greater New York Dental Meeting. Within the beautiful surroundings of the Harmonie Club, the Academy inducted a number of new Fellows as well as recognizing the dedication and service of the Academy's regents.

To learn more about membership within the IADFE and their 2012 Spring meeting to be held in Rome, Italy, please visit www.iadfe.org

